

Agnieszka Janczuk is a PhD Candidate at the European University Institute. Agnieszka graduated from Warsaw University, Law Department and Warsaw School of Economics where she obtained MA degrees. Following graduation she participated as a young researcher in the Research Training Network ‘Fundamental Rights and Private Law in the European Union’ at Norwich Law School, University of East Anglia. The results of the project will be published by Cambridge University Press. She also obtained a LLM degree in International Competition Law and Policy from Norwich Law School. In 2008 she was a visiting research fellow at the Columbia Law School.

Agnieszka’s research interests concern the role of private organizations in the European regulatory space. Agnieszka has been a co-founder of the Polish Association of Law & Economics (www.pseap.org) and has served as a member of its management board. She has also been involved in the establishment of the Polish institute of advanced legal studies – Allerhand Institute (www.allerhand.pl). Agnieszka is also a member of the editorial board of the Columbia Journal of European Law.