

WORKSHOP TEACHING AND LEARNING AT THE EUI. APRIL 15TH

Location: Conference Room, Villa la Fonte

The European University Institute is developing a programme to reflect on the development of Teaching and Learning in Higher Education and Academic Career Development. The EUI teaching and learning programme should integrate career development with teaching and learning skills, together with communication and language skills, and will initially target EUI doctoral and postdoctoral researchers with a view to, first, implement best practice at the institutional level and second, spread best practice in graduate education training all over Europe, taking advantage of the rich and diversified backgrounds of the EUI academic community and its being a melting pot for the multiple academic traditions of Europe.

To explore the field of Teaching and Learning and Academic Career Development in Europe, both in what has been done in practice and what has been done in theory, MWP/EUI has organised a workshop at the EUI on April 15th with international experts of practice and theory in these fields, and with EUI Faculty.
