

ARTHUR DYEUVRE

Max Weber Programme
European University Institute
Villa la Fonte
Via delle Fontanelle, 10
I-50014 San Domenico di Fiesole (FI)
Italy

Arthur.Dyevre@eui.eu
tel ++39 055 4685 647
fax ++39 055 4685 647

FACULTY POSITIONS

2007-2008: Max Weber Fellow, European University Institute, Florence (Italy)

2005-2007: Teaching Assistant, Law Faculty, University of Paris X, Nanterre (France).

2004-2005: Teaching Assistant, Law Faculty, University of Versailles/St Quentin (France).

May-July 2001: Privatdozent, Law School, Johannes Gutenberg University, Mainz (Germany).

Visiting positions

Summer 2006: Guest Researcher, Max Planck Institute for International and Comparative
Law, Heidelberg (Germany).

Summer 2004: Guest Researcher, Max Planck Institute for International and Comparative
Law, Heidelberg (Germany).

October 2003 – March 2004: (informal) visiting researcher University of Texas at Austin
School of Law, Austin TX (USA).

Summer 2003: Guest Researcher, Institut für allgemeine Staatslehre und
Politikwissenschaften, University of Göttingen (Germany).

HIGHER EDUCATION

2007: Ph. D., Public Law, University of Paris I Pantheon Sorbonne

2002: Master's Comparative Law (with honours, first of the class), University of Paris I Pantheon Sorbonne (first semester as affiliate graduate at St John's College, University of Oxford)

2001: LL.M. Magister Legum (Magna Cum Laude), Johannes Gutenberg University, Mainz
(Germany) / Master's European Law (with honours), Montesquieu University, Bordeaux
(France)

2000: Licence-Maîtrise (BA), University of Nantes (France)/Johannes Gutenberg University, Mainz (Germany).

LANGUAGES

French: mother tongue.

Portuguese: fair reading, writing, and speaking ability.

English: proficient.

Italian: fair reading and speaking ability.

German: proficient.

Spanish: fair reading ability.

FIELDS OF RESEARCH AND WRITING

Comparative Constitutional Law, Judicial Politics, Comparative Politics, European Integration, Competition Law, Legal Theory, Hermeneutics and Theories of Interpretation, Methodology of Social Sciences, Political Theory.

DISSERTATION TITLE

Judicial Activism in Comparative Perspective: The French Constitutional Council, the U.S. Supreme Court, and the German Federal Constitutional Court – Judicial Interpretation of the Fourteenth Amendment’s Due Process Clause, the Right to the Free Development of Personality and the Fundamental Principles Recognised by the Laws of the Republic

(L’activisme juridictionnel en droit constitutionnel comparé : France, Etats-Unis, Allemagne – La concrétisation juridictionnelle de la Due Process Clause du XIV^e amendement, du droit au libre épanouissement de la personnalité et des principes fondamentaux reconnus par les lois de la République)

PUBLICATIONS

Articles

Dyevre, Arthur (forthcoming December 2007), « La prise en compte de critères extra-concurrentiels dans le droit communautaire de la concurrence » Revue Internationale de Droit Economique (RIDE).

Dyevre, Arthur (2006), « L’étude de l’activité normative du Conseil constitutionnel et de la Cour constitutionnelle fédérale (Bundesverfassungsgericht) », Annuaire International de Justice Constitutionnelle XXI (AIJC), pp. 39-55. (Paper translated into Portuguese under the title “O lugar das Cortes Constitucionais na produção das normas: estudo da atividade normativa do Conselho Constitucional e do Tribunal Constitucional Federal”, Opiniãõ Juridica 6 (2006), pp. 181-197.)

Dyevre, Arthur (January 2006), « Quelques réflexions sur l'interprétation de la loi par la Cour de cassation et le Conseil d'État », (semantic analysis of statutory interpretation in France) Revue de la recherche juridique – Droit prospectif 114 (2006) (RRJ 2006-3), pp. 1247-1274.

Dyevre, Arthur (April 2005), “The Constitutionalisation of the European Union: Discourse, Present, Future and Facts”, European Law Review 30, pp.163-187.

Dyevre, Arthur (April 2005), « De quelques fausses croyances sur le traité constitutionnel », (remarks on the public debate preceding the French referendum on the EU Constitutional Treaty) online publication: <http://www.opuscitatum.com>.

Book chapter

Dyevre Arthur (September 2003), « La protection des personnes soumises à la détention ou à l'emprisonnement », (the rights of prisoners and detainees under international law) in Nicole Dhéry (ed.), Protéger les droits humains, Paris : Litec/Amnesty International, pp.317-325.

Book review

Dyevre Arthur (December 2006), Review of Paul Magnette (ed.), “La Grande Europe”, European Law Review 31, pp. 933-936.

Selected papers and conference presentation

Dyevre, Arthur (June 2006), « Une théorie des théories de l'activité normative des juridictions constitutionnelles ». Paper presented at the annual meeting of the French Legal Philosophy Society “New Avenues in the Philosophy of Law”, June 16, 2006, Paris, France.

Dyevre, Arthur (June 2006), « Retour sur un concept et un phénomène : la constitutionnalisation du droit ». Paper presented at the conference “Nature and Peculiarities of French Constitutional Law”, June 11, 2006, Paris, France.

Dyevre, Arthur (March 2006), « L'étude de l'activité normative du Conseil constitutionnel et de la Cour constitutionnelle fédérale (Bundesverfassungsgericht) ». Paper presented at the Joint Colloquium “European Comparative Law”, University of Paris I Panthéon Sorbonne/DVH Speyer, March 2-3, 2006, Paris.

Dyevre, Arthur (May 2006), « L'activisme juridictionnel en droit constitutionnel comparé », Conference New Researches in Comparative Law, May 28, 2005, Paris.

Papers in progress

Dyevre, Arthur (in progress – to be completed by December 1, 2007), “Understanding Judicial Lawmaking: A (Meta-)Theory of Theories of Adjudication”.

Dyevre, Arthur (in progress – to be completed as an EUI working paper by March 2008), “European Integration and the ECJ/National Courts Game: A Strategic Analysis”.

Dyevre, Arthur (in progress – to be completed by July 2008), “Path Dependence and Judicial Lawmaking in Brazil, the U.S., and the EU”.

Dyevre, Arthur (in progress), « A quoi servent et pourquoi les théories du ‘service public ?’ ».

Dyevre, Arthur (unpublished – circulated as a memo while I was member of Amnesty International Legal Committee in Paris), « Quelques réflexions sur la notion de génocide : une analyse sémantique des éléments constitutifs de l’infraction de génocide en droit international public ».

TEACHING INTERESTS

Undergraduate

Comparative Politics
Government
Comparative Constitutional Law
European Integration
EU Politics

Graduate (Law or Political Science)

Jurisprudence/Legal Theory
Judicial Politics
Comparative Constitutional Law
Methodology of Comparative Law
Methodology of Social Sciences

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

Teaching Assistant

Spring 2006 and 2007

Law: French Constitutional Law

Course Professor: Guy Carcassonne. This lower-level undergraduate course introduces first-year law students to the theory and practice of French Constitutional Law. In my tutorial classes, I used comparative approaches and examples from other legal systems as a heuristic device.

Fall 2006

Law and Political Science: European Law and European Integration

Course Professors: Patrick Daillier/Philippe Guttinger. This is an upper-level undergraduate course introducing third-year students of law and political science to the main institutional, political and legal aspects of European integration. In my tutorials, I put a particular emphasis on the principal theoretical approaches to European integration and the works of Scharpf, Haas, Moracsvick, Stone Sweet, and Weiler.

Fall 2005 and 2006

Law and Political Science: Government and French Politics

Course Professor: Guy Carcassonne. Designed for first-year undergraduate students of law and political science, this course focuses on the evolution of the French political system, introducing the basic tools and classifications of political science (federal and unitary states, party-systems, electoral systems, presidentialism, parliamentarism...).

Spring 2005

Law: Public Law and Constitutional Theory

Course Professor: Christophe Grzegorzcyk. This course introduces the main theories and concepts of Public and Constitutional Law – such as state, sovereignty, constitutionalism, democracy, the rule of law, separation of power, fundamental rights, or judicial review.

Fall 2004

Law: Legal Theory

Course Professor: Christophe Grzegorzcyk. This is a (challenging) introductory course to jurisprudence, discussing the works of Kelsen, Hart, Dworkin, and others. My teaching focused on interpretation and legal positivism.

Privatdozent

May-July 2001

Law: Introduction to French Law and Legal Culture

This is an 8-week course designed for foreign law students planning to study law in France. I taught a German audience the basics of French private and public law, and French legal methodology.

OTHER PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCES

Consultant

March 2003 – December 2004

*Amnesty International, French Section,
Legal Committee, Paris, FRANCE*

While providing expertise on current French and international legal and human rights issues (e.g. the notion of 'genocide' under international public law), I also actively participated in the genesis of a book on human rights that the committee members published under the title Protéger les droits humains (Protecting Human Rights).

RESEARCH SUPPORT

- allocataire de recherche (University of Paris I/Ministry of Research, 2002, 40 000 €)
- Aire culturelle (Foreign Affairs Ministry, 2006)
- DAAD (Deutscher Akademischer Austausch Dienst, 2004)
- CIERA (Centre interdisciplinaire d'étude et de recherche sur l'Allemagne, 2006)

REFERENCES

Professor Otto Pfersmann (dissertation chair), University of Paris I Pantheon Sorbonne, 9 rue Malher 75020 Paris, FRANCE, tel ++33 607 308 792, email: otto.pfersmann@univ-paris1.fr

Professor Wojciech Sadurski (mentor at the EUI), European University Institute, Department of Law, Via Boccaccio 121, San Domenico di Fiesole (FI), ITALY, tel ++39 055 4685 245, fax ++39 055 4685 200, email: wojciech.sadurski@iue.it

Professor Christophe Grzegorzcyk, University of Versailles/St Quentin, Law Faculty, 3 rue de la division Leclerc 78280 Guyancourt, FRANCE, tel ++33 145 544 001
christophe.grzegorzcyk@u-paris10.fr

Assistant Professor Robert Sparling, University of Toronto, Department of Political Science, Sidney Smith Hall 100 St. George Street, Toronto, Ontario M5S 3G3 CANADA, tel 416 929-1098, email: robsparling@hotmail.com