Call for Papers

Graduate Conference on the History of European Integration

18-20 September, European University Institute, Florence

The Annual Graduate Conference on the History of European Integration is a joint initiative between the Alcide De Gasperi Research Centre at EUI and the two European associations of young researchers, RICHIE (Réseau international de jeunes chercheurs en histoire de l'intégration européenne) and HEIRS (History of European integration research society).

The Graduate Conference is a unique conference specifically for PhD students and early career researchers to discuss ongoing research related to the history of European integration, broadly conceived. The Graduate Conference consists of panel sessions focused on submitted research papers, as well as debates on historiographical and methodological approaches. The aim of the conference is to provide an informal atmosphere in which new ideas and research directions, as well as practical advice on publishing and academic careers can be shared and debated.

PhD students and early career researchers (no more than 5 years from PhD completion) are invited to submit proposals. We encourage submissions on any aspects of postwar Western European cooperation and integration, broadly conceived. Of particular interest are papers that make use of newly available primary sources and innovative methodologies. Travel and accommodation costs will be covered. Applicants should submit an abstract of no more than 300 words and a short CV by 20 April 2017 to agc.history.europe@gmail.com. Selected applicants will be informed by the end of the month.

The Scientific Committee is composed of Mechthild Herzog (Université du Luxembourg), Emmanuel Mourlon-Druol (University of Glasgow), and Federico Romero (European University Institute).
