The School of Transnational Governance

The European University Institute's School of Transnational Governance seeks to appoint

Chair in digital politics, economy and society

We are looking for an exceptional candidate whose experience and expertise has a particular emphasis on cross-border data flows and cyber security; content governance, including mis – and dis-information; platform regulation, digital markets and competition.

The successful candidate will be able to teach into one of the 5 compulsory MA year 1 foundation courses as well as deliver 2nd year courses and executive training modules. The successful candidate will support the further development of the STG and will have a proven track-record of innovative course design, programme development and teaching at Master level. It would also be expected from the successful candidate to pilot a programme involving all the scholars working in in digital politics, economy and society.

Candidates will have a strong publication record, a demonstrated interest in transnational dimensions of public policy, experience in developing and delivering executive education programmes, and a proven ability to mobilise external funding. They will have extensive international networks in public policy domains and/or the private or nongovernmental sector.

The Chair will support the STG Director, contribute to the recruitment of Master level students, and engage in the design and implementation of the STG's activities. The successful candidates will teach and supervise Master students and may also supervise EUI doctoral researchers.

The Institute is an equal opportunity employer, and is committed to balanced gender, geographical and minority representation.

Interested applicants should consult Open competitions for academic posts • European University Institute (eui.eu) for further particulars.

Deadline for receipt of applications: 16 January 2023.

The aim of the European University Institute shall be to contribute, by its activities in the fields of higher education and research, to the development of the cultural and scientific heritage of Europe… This aim shall be pursued through teaching and research at the highest university level…, the Institute shall develop interdisciplinary research programmes on the major issues confronting contemporary European society, including matters relating to the construction of Europe.
-Art. 2 of the Convention setting up a European University Institute