

The School of Transnational Governance

The European University Institute's School of Transnational Governance seeks to appoint

Chair in Security Studies

We are looking for an exceptional candidate, whose experience and expertise lies within the area of foreign, security and defence policies, especially but not exclusively with a focus on Europe's foreign relations, external action, or power politics competition.

The successful candidate will be able to teach into one of the 5 compulsory MA year 1 foundation courses as well as deliver 2nd year courses and executive training modules. The successful candidate will support the further development of the STG and will have a proven track-record of innovative course design, programme development and teaching at Master level.

Candidates will have a strong publication record, a demonstrated interest in transnational dimensions of public policy, experience in developing and delivering executive education programmes, and a proven ability to mobilise external funding. They will have extensive international networks in public policy domains and/or the private or nongovernmental sector.

The Chair will support the STG Director, contribute to the recruitment of Master level students, and engage in the design and implementation of the STG's activities. The successful candidates will teach and supervise Master students and may also supervise EUI doctoral researchers.

The Institute is an equal opportunity employer, and is committed to balanced gender, geographical and minority representation.

Interested applicants should consult Open competitions for academic posts • European University Institute \(eui.eu\) for further particulars.

Deadline for receipt of applications: 16 January 2023.
