

Ideas. Change

The Global Governance Programme at the EUI

Global Governance has become a key concept in many academic and policy debates. There is strong awareness nowadays that many issues have a global dimension, and cannot be effectively dealt with at the level of individual states or regional organizations.

The world faces a myriad of increasingly complex issues, such as humanitarian crises and intervention, terrorism, conflict resolution and peace-building, poverty, climate change and instability in the international economic system. Resolving these issues requires the involvement of global players, ranging from private actors to intergovernmental organizations.

The role of the Global Governance Programme (GGP) in this scenario is to share knowledge, develop new ideas on these issues, and serve as a bridge between research and policy-making.

The GGP is part of the Robert Schuman Centre for Advanced Studies of the European University Institute, a world-renowned and truly European academic institution uniquely placed to contribute the European perspective to the global governance debate.

Academy of Global Governance (AGG)

The AGG is a unique executive training programme, unprecedented within the EU. It combines the EUI's top-level academic environment with distinguished speakers coming from academia, politics and business.

The AGG Executive Training Seminars offer three and a half days of intensive and interactive training by some of the world's leading experts in the field of global governance, to the "leaders of the future": young executives and policy-makers, public sector officials, private sector professionals, junior academics, and diplomats.

Topics of upcoming AGG Executive Seminars:

- Counter-Terrorism Policies
- Economics of Global Governance
- Global Security
- Conflict Resolution
- Regional Integration
- Tax Havens
- Climate Governance

An online registration form is available on the Academy webpage: www.eui.eu/Project/GGP/Academy

High-Level Policy Seminars

The GGP High-Level Policy Seminars aim to generate and contribute to academic and policy debates by convening key policy makers and academics to discuss the current challenges of global governance.

In 2011 the GGP will host three High-Level Policy Seminars:

- International Trade and the Doha Round, 4 February
- European and United States Counter-Terrorism Policies. The Rule of Law and Human Rights, 16 March
- The Macroeconomic and the Financial Landscape in the Aftermath of the 2007 Crisis. New Challenges and Perspectives, 6 June

Research Strands

Diverse dimensions of global governance are investigated in research strands and projects coordinated by senior scholars, both from the EUI and from other internationally recognized top institutions, and involving fellows and researchers.

Topics:

- Climate Change
- Democracy and Accountability in Global Governance
- Economics of Global Governance
- Global Governance and Gender Equity
- Global Governance and Institutional Choice
- Global Justice
- Global Regulation of Energy, Water and Natural Resources
- History and Globalization
- International Economic Law and Integration
- Migration
- Regional Integration
- Terrorism and other International Security Issues

Global Governance Debates

Two experts presenting diverging viewpoints on an issue of global relevance. A brief paper prepared by each speaker is circulated to the participants in advance. The debate starts by speakers reacting to each other's papers. Papers and reaction papers are published.

Global Governance Network

The Global Governance Network is a dynamic virtual community of scholars, policy experts and institutions, which seeks to encourage debate and increase the knowledge and understanding of global issues.

It is a platform for members to exchange research, policy analysis and commentary, and to disseminate their work to a broader audience of academics, policy makers, international organizations, private sector executives, and media.
