

SUMMER COURSE ON HUMAN RIGHTS

Monday 17 - Friday 28 June 2024

Course convenors and organisers:

Neha Jain, Professor of Public International Law, European University Institute

Sarah Nouwen, Professor of Public International Law, European University Institute

Wouter Werner, Professor of Public International Law, Free University of Amsterdam

- Encountering International Criminal Law through a Re-enactment of the Ongwen trial

Wouter Werner, Professor of Public International Law, Free University of Amsterdam

Sarah Nouwen, Professor of Public International Law, European University Institute

- DOCUMENTARY ROLE PLAY BASED ON A SCRIPT AND PERFORMED BY ALL PARTICIPANTS

The documentary role-plays will allow students to experience what it is to perform a role in an actual case, followed by critical reflections on the meaning of the case and their own perspectives on this case. Re-enactments add an extra dimension to experiential learning through their claim to veracity.

- Reflections: Creating Ongwen through International Criminal Law

Barney Afako, Lawyer and Expert on Transitional Justice; Tribunal Judge in the United Kingdom

Liana Minkova, Research Fellow, University of Cambridge

Zahara Nampewo, Deputy Principal, School of Law, University of Makerere

Josephine Ndagire, Lecturer, School of Law, University of Makerere

Daniel R. Ruhweza, Senior Lecturer, School of Law, University of Makerere

Sarah Nouwen, Professor of Public International Law, European University Institute

Lino Owor Ogora, Executive Director, Foundation for Justice and Development Initiatives (FJDI)

Sofia Stolk, Assistant Professor of Public International Law, Free University of Amsterdam

Warner Ten Kate, Head of Migration and Development Division, Dutch Ministry of Foreign Affairs