FINAL ACT

THE PLENIPOTENTIARIES OF THE HIGH CONTRACTING PARTIES,

assembled at Florence on 19 April 1972 for the signature of the Convention setting up a European University Institute,

HAVE ADOPTED THE FOLLOWING TEXTS:

- the Convention setting up a European University Institute,
- the Protocol on the Privileges and Immunities of the European University Institute.

At the time of signature of these texts, the Plenipotentiaries have:

- adopted the declarations in Annex I, and
- taken note of the declarations by the Government of the Federal Republic of Germany set out in Annex II.

ANNEX I

I. Declarations relating to certain provisions of the Convention

Article 6

Paragraph 1

- a) The rules of procedure of the High Council will determine the conditions under which Government representatives may enlist the assistance of experts.
- b) The rules of procedure make provision for the High Council to meet whenever necessary, and to meet in places within the territory of the Contracting States besides Florence.
- c) The High Council will take the necessary measures concerning the Institute's official publications; for this purpose it may use the services of the Official Publications Office of the European Communities.

Paragraph 5 (c)

The provisions of Article 6 (5) (c) do not prevent the High Council from designating the Court of Justice of the European Communities, after consultation with the President of that Court, as the body appointed to settle disputes between the Institute and its staff.

Article 10

The carrying out of research work within a particular department merely means that the department is the main instigator. This in no way excludes enlisting the services of other departments to ensure that all scientific activities have the necessary interdisciplinary character.

Article 12

- a) The seminars and research teams will be set up for as long as is necessary to study the selected topic or to complete the particular research project.
- b) With regard to methods of works, teaching at the Institute shall consist essentially in participation in research work. The length of time devoted to such research may vary, but at least two years' work and the submission of an original piece of research under the conditions laid down in Article 14 of the Convention will be required for the award of any particular degree.

Article 14

- a) The degrees provided for in Article 14 (1) may for example be:

    “Doctor of laws of the European University Institute of Florence”

    “Doctor of political science of the European University Institute of Florence”.
- b) The problem of the comparative status of the Institute's doctorate will be studied in a wider context as soon as possible; the High Council may, if necessary, address recommendations on this point to the Governments of the Contracting States.

- c) The purpose of publishing a piece of research will be to make it available to anyone who is interested in it. The provisions to be adopted in implementation of Article 14 (3) will therefore stipulate that publication may be effected not only in a journal or book or booklet form, but also by any other suitable form, (micro-film, roneo, etc.).

Article 15

Paragraph 1

The appointment of professors to the Institute on a permanent basis will be for a period of three years and may be renewed.

Paragraph 3

This refers mainly to the retention of rights acquired under national arrangements and, where appropriate, the acquisition of such rights, as well as to the possibility of returning to an institution in the country of origin, particularly where the stay at the Institute is for a short period.

Article 16

Paragraph 1

Taking into account the academic level and requirements as regards organization of the work, the number of research students will, initially at least, probably be between 250 and 600.

Paragraph 3

- a) The provisions relating to the admission of ordinary students and research students must stipulate the academic standard which they must already have attained and the degree of knowledge of the official languages of the Institute required of them.
- b) The words 'take account as far as possible of their place of origin' should be interpreted as meaning that academic qualifications will be the main criterion which the Board takes into account, but that it must also take care to maintain equal representation of the various nationalities of the research students.

Article 17

It is advisable that the representatives of the Contracting States in the High Council should consult each other so that the level of grants and procedures for awarding them should be comparable in all the States.

Article 25

- a) The cost of the initial equipping of the newly constructed or extended buildings placed at the disposal of the European University Institute by the Italian Government will be borne by that Government.
- b) Furniture and teaching equipment is the type of investment which can be written off against normal budget appropriations and is thus closely tied to the functioning of the Institute; it is usual for provision to be made for such appropriations to be made in the annual budget.

Expenditure relating to additional equipment will come under the Institute's budget and will be financed according to the usual rules for financing the Institute's expenditure.

Article 26

The financial rules will stipulate that where the Contracting States pay their contributions in their national currencies:

- the available balances of these contributions will be deposited with the exchequers of the Contracting States or with bodies designated by these States;
- while on deposit, funds will retain the value corresponding to the parity on the day of deposit in relation to the currency unit in which the Institute's budget is drawn up.

Article 29

Second paragraph

Article 29 of the Convention does not preclude the Court of Justice of the European Communities from being designated as the arbitration body by the President of that Court.

Article 30

A Preparatory Committee composed of representatives of the Governments of the Contracting States and one representative from the Commission (without a vote) will meet after the signature of the Convention. It will carry out the necessary preparatory work, in particular the preparation of a draft headquarters agreement so that the Institute may be set up as soon as possible after the entry into force of the Convention.

II. Miscellaneous declarations

A. Financing and structure of the Institute

- a) The Principal will receive the salary and allowances of a professor plus an administrative allowance (about 20 % of the salary) during his term of office.
- b) The salary of the Secretary should be less than that of the Principal and may be equivalent to the salary of a professor.
- c) The Institute's research findings must be published and after the second or third year of its activity there should be a special budget heading for this.

B. Accommodation for research students

The Government of the Italian Republic will provide accommodation for research students at a moderate rent.

Any measures which may be taken in this connection must not be charged to the Institute's budget.

C. Possible accession of States which are not members of the European Communities

Four years after the entry into force of the Convention, the High Council, after consulting the Academic Council, will submit a report to the Contracting States concerning the possible inclusion in the Convention of a clause allowing States other than the Member States of the European Communities to accede to the Convention.

D. Re-examination of the question of denunciation

The question of denunciation of the Convention will be re-examined at the same time as the report provided for in C.

E. European College at Bruges

The Contracting States take note of the following declaration made at the meeting of the Council and the Conference of Ministers of Education of the Member States, on 16 November 1971:

“The academic authorities of the Institutes of Florence and Bruges should work together to organize and set out in the most appropriate manner their respective curricula for parallel or converging activities.”

ANNEX II

Declarations by the Government of the Federal Republic of Germany

The Government of the Federal Republic of Germany reserves the right to declare, when depositing its instrument of ratification of the Convention establishing a European University Institute, that this Convention shall equally apply to Land Berlin.

With regard to the definition of the expression “national”, the Government of the Federal Republic of Germany refers to the declaration which it made on 25 March 1957 at the time of signature of the Treaties establishing the European Economic Community and the European Atomic Energy Community.
