

Global Public Goods and the Plurality of Legal Orders ESIL-ASIL-EJIL-Hiil Symposium

*Theatre, Badia Fiesolana, European University Institute,
Via dei Roccettini 9, 50014 San Domenico di Fiesole (FI), Italy
24 - 25 October 2011*

Programme

Monday 24 October: 09.00 – 13.00

Opening and Welcome

Session 1: Plurality and Interaction of Legal Orders in the Protection and Management of Global Public Goods

The opening session seeks to refine our understanding of global public goods and the intellectual agenda regarding them amidst a plurality of legal orders and of mechanisms.

Chair: Anne Peters, President, European Society of International Law; University of Basel

Speakers International Law and Global Public Goods
Greg Shaffer, University of Minnesota

Transnational Private Regulation and Global Public Goods
Fabrizio Cafaggi, European University Institute

Discussants: Conflict of Laws, lex mercatoria and International Public Goods
Ralf Michaels, Duke University

Procedural Rules, Legitimacy and Global Public Goods
Daniel Bodansky, Arizona State University*

Forms of Private Authority and Global Public Goods
Claire Cutler, Visiting Professor, European University Institute

Lunch: 13.00 – 14.30

Monday 24 October: 14.30 – 18.00

Session 2: Global Public Goods through International and Transnational Regulation

The second session addresses creating, shaping and promoting global public goods, such as health, environmental quality, financial security, cultural goods, and peace, through international and transnational regulation. This includes the standard setting activity and contractual arrangements entered into by international ('public') institutions, private actors, and public-private partnerships.

Chair: Ernst-Ulrich Petersmann, European University Institute

Speakers: Security of Financial Markets
Katharina Pistor, Columbia Law School

Peace as a Global Public Good
Mary Ellen O'Connell, Notre Dame Law School

Public and Private in the International Protection of Global Cultural Goods
Francesco Francioni, European University Institute

Legitimacy and Power in the Protection of Global Public Goods
Nico Krisch, Hertie School of Government, Berlin

Free Trade as a Global Public Good
Petros Mavroidis, European University Institute

Tuesday 25 October: 09.00 – 13.00

Session 3: Global Public Goods through Transnational Adjudication

The third session addresses creating, shaping and promoting global public goods through a range of mechanisms that form transnational adjudication, including national courts, private arbitration, international arbitration and international courts.

Chair: Francesco Francioni, European University Institute

Speakers: Adjudication by International Courts

André Nollkaemper, University of Amsterdam

Inspection Panels, Compliance and Sanction Mechanisms

Laurence Boisson de Chazournes, University of Geneva

Non-judicial Enforcement of Global Public Goods

Elisa Morgera, University of Edinburgh

The Dynamics of the International Arbitration System as a Global Public Good

David D. Caron, President, American Society of International Law; University of California at Berkeley

Closing Session:

Chair: David D. Caron, President, American Society of International Law; University of California at Berkeley

Discussion and Conclusions

Lunch: 13.00 – 14.30