

Programme of the Eighth Session - Session on Human Rights Law, 7 to 18 July 1997

Distinguished Lectures

Antonio Cassese

President of the United Nations International Criminal Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia

Is There a Need for International Criminal Justice?

Wilhelm Höynck

Permanent Representative of Germany to the United Nations, Geneva; Former Secretary-General of the OSCE

General Course

Stefan Trechsel

Professor of Criminal Law and Procedure, University of St. Gallen; President of the European Commission of Human Rights

Specialized Courses

The United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights

Andrew Clapham

Representative of Amnesty International at the United Nations, New York

The Evolution of the Refugee Rights Regime

James Hathaway

Professor of Law, Osgoode Hall Law School, York University

Democratic Ideas in Human Rights Law

Susan Marks

Lecturer, Faculty of Law, University of Cambridge

Lessons for the International Human Rights Regime from the Yugoslav Experience

Manfred Nowak

Professor of Law, Vienna University; Member of the Human Rights Chamber for Bosnia-Herzegovina; UN Expert on Missing Persons in the Former Yugoslavia

International Norms and Domestic Political Change: The Case of Human Rights

Thomas Risse-Kappen

Professor of Social and Political Sciences, European University Institute