

SPS DEPARTMENTAL SEMINAR SERIES 2020/2021

Wednesday, 16 December 2020, 17:00-18:15, via Zoom

Robert Braun (UC Berkeley)

“Border crossings and xenophobia in Weimar Germany: evidence from children's stories”

Wednesday, 10 February 2021, 17:00-18:15, via Zoom

Horacio Larreguy Arbesu (Harvard University)

“Can misinformation training and regular viral news and fact-checks provision to journalists help to counter misinformation? Evidence from Bolivia”

Wednesday, 17 February 2021, 17:00-18:15, via Zoom

Andreas Wimmer (Columbia University)

“COVID, Compassion, and Creed. Explaining Non-Black Participation in the BLM Protests of 2020”
with Flavien Ganter (Columbia University)

Thursday, 18 March 2021, 17:00-18:15, via Zoom

Carlo Prato (Columbia University)

“The Effect of Term-wide Transparency on Electoral Accountability” with Guy Grossman (University of Pennsylvania) and Kristin Michelitch (Vanderbilt University)

Wednesday, 14 April 2021, 17:00-18:15, via Zoom

Michael Becher (IE University, Madrid)

“Limited accountability? Endogenous benchmarking in the COVID-19 pandemic”
with Sylvain Brouard (Science Po) and Daniel Stegmueller (Duke University)

Wednesday, 12 May 2021, 17:00-18:15, via Zoom

Jeff Checkel (European University Institute)

““Open Science, Research Transparency and Qualitative Methods””

Wednesday, 16 June 2021, 17:00-18:15, via Zoom

Vasiliki Fouka (Stanford University)

“TBA”