

Causes and Consequences of Inequality

Max Weber Programme Multidisciplinary Research Workshop

Thursday, May 13, 2021

Organisers: Weverthon Barbosa Machado (MWF SPS), Balaraju Battu (MWF SPS), Aruni Mitra (MWF ECO and University of Manchester), and Federica Querin (MWF SPS)

Abstract

The aim of the workshop is to examine the sources of inequality and policies to tackle it by bringing together academics from different areas of social sciences. The workshop will critically examine data, theory, and policy implications. Focus will be on areas including but not limited to economic redistributive policies with related issues of justice like targeting equality in outcomes versus equality in opportunities, identity-based discrimination like gender and racial inequality in the labour market, intra-household inequality like bargaining power differences between the two spouses, intergenerational transfers, and unequal access to public goods like health and education.

Location: Zoom.us (the link will be disseminated by email).

Format and Housekeeping:

- Sessions will have 15 minutes for each presentation and 5 minutes for questions and discussion at the end.
- We strongly encourage everyone to keep their video on for a feeling of community engagement over the virtual platform. However, everyone except the presenter should mute their microphones unless they are called upon by the chair to participate in the Q&A at the end of a presentation.
- Participants can write their question in the chat during or after the presentation, and the chair will ask them to unmute their microphone and speak up.
