

Fellows-in-Residence

Academic year 2019/2020

JEAN MONNET FELLOWS

Leonardo Baccini, McGill University, Trade Liberalization, Development, and Political Violence

Nicola Maggini, University of Florence, New Challenges for Representative Democracy: The changing political space in Western Europe

G. Matteo Vaccaro-Incisa, IESEG School of Management Paris, A Comparative Study of Annulment grounds at the International Centre for Settlement of Investment Disputes and Civil Law Systems

Eugenio Cusumano, Leiden University, Maritime Rescue: International norm contestation and migrations across the Mediterranean

Ariadna Ripoll Servent, University of Bamberg, Under the Shadow of Populism: Understanding the influence of European Parliament Members in national party leaderships

Moritz Weiss, LMU Munich, The Institutional Foundations of 'Old' and 'New' Security Industries

Catherine Gegout, University of Nottingham, The EU and the Developing World: Protectionism and exploitation, or economic and social development?

Sara Svensson, Central European University, When Borders Return: The response of European cross-border regional institutions to attitudes and policies of securitization and re-bordering

EU FELLOW

Kristine Vlagsma-Brangule, European Commission, Universal Basic Income: Potential and relevance in the EU policy context

EP FELLOW

Marika Armanovica, European Parliament, Determinants of Social Protest against EU Trade Agreements

MAX WEBER FELLOWS

Silvia D'Amato, EUI, A Perfect Storm? Transnational terrorism and contradictory dynamics in European counterterrorism cooperation

Anna Knaps, EUI, International Law and International Relations (visiting Max Weber Fellow)

Wessel Reijers, Dublin City University, Governance Technology: Mediating global citizenship

Sebastian Diessner, EUI, The Political Economy of Indirect Governance

David Moloney, University of Limerick, The Bargaining Success of the Various Actors in the Brexit Negotiations

Ester Sigillò, Georgetown University, Going Global: Extraterritoriality and reterritorialization of Tunisian Islamic Activism: Analysis of the effects in Tunis, Rome and Paris

Emilien Fargues, University of Lille 2, Unsuitable for Citizenship: A global perspective on exclusion from the national community

Caitlin Procter, University of Oxford, Precarious Politics: The migration networks and trajectories of Palestinian refugee youth from Gaza to Europe

Anja Thomas, University of Oxford, The EU's Diverging Parliamentary Space: The 'old' institutionalist explanations for the EU's fractured Union

Stylianos Tsiaras, University of Surrey, The Distributional Effects of Monetary Policy

ROBERT SCHUMAN FELLOWS

Marek Cichocki, College of Europe, Natolin, The Role of Culture and Identity in Shaping the Dominating Public Narratives in Central European Societies

Kevin Featherstone, LSE, When 'Brussels' is the Foe: The domestication of EU institutions in national conflicts

Gurpreet Mahajan, Jawaharlal Nehru University, Frameworks for the Governance of Religion and Religious Diversity in Liberal Democracies

Raffaella Del Sarto, Johns Hopkins University, Borderlands: Europe and the Middle East

Michele Grossman, Deakin University, Radicalisation to Violence and the Socio-Cultural Dimensions of Resilience to Violent Extremism from an Australian Perspective

Philippe Van Parijs, Catholic University of Louvain, Conversations for the Future of Europe