FOREWORD FROM THE EUI PROVOST FOR RESEARCH AND EXTERNAL RELATIONS

Welcome to the 17th edition of the EUI Directory of Academic Publications and Data—a testament to the dynamism, depth, and global impact of the research carried out at the European University Institute. As our world undergoes rapid transformations, the EUI stands at the forefront, driving excellence in research, education, and collaborations within the social sciences and humanities.

At the heart of our institution is a vibrant community of scholars—early-stage researchers, postdoctoral fellows, and distinguished international faculty—who engage with today's most pressing social challenges. Their work bridges the gap between theory and applied research, influencing policy and shaping informed public debate. Through partnerships with national and European institutions, EUI researchers contribute knowledge that resonates far beyond academia, reinforcing our role as a hub for cutting-edge ideas and solutions.

A key pillar of our success is our internationally renowned doctoral and postdoctoral programmes, including the Max Weber and Jean Monnet Programmes, which cultivate intellectual excellence and foster exchange across disciplines. Supported by an outstanding network of junior and senior scholars and dedicated professorial staff, our research community remains deeply embedded in European and global academic networks, leading journals, and policy discussions.

This year's directory captures the remarkable scope and impact of our scholarly contributions. With 1,256 publications—a 14% increase from last year—our scholars have authored 83 books, 181 book chapters, 140 theses, 512 journal articles, 124 working papers, 169 research reports, lectures, policy briefs, and papers, along with 9 new datasets and 38 videos. These outputs not only reflect the intellectual vitality of our institution but also reaffirm our commitment to advancing knowledge and tackling global challenges.

We are also reinforcing our dedication to Open Access, ensuring that the knowledge produced at the EUI is widely accessible. I invite you to explore Cadmus, the EUI Research Repository (<https://cadmus.eui.eu>), which is updated daily and increasingly features our research in Open Access format. By broadening access to scholarly work, we enhance its impact across academia, policy, and society at large.

It is a privilege to present this 17th edition of the Directory. My deepest congratulations go to our scholars for their relentless pursuit of knowledge and to our professional staff for their invaluable contributions in making this possible. I hope this report serves as both a resource and an inspiration.

INTRODUCTION FROM THE EUI LIBRARY DIRECTOR

I am pleased to present the 17th edition of the EUI Academic Publications and Data Directory, showcasing the research contributions of EUI members published in 2024.

The Directory is structured by publication type, including books, theses, journal articles, book chapters, working papers, research reports, and datasets, providing a comprehensive overview of the EUI's scholarly output.

In 2024, the EUI's academic community produced 1,256 research outputs, with 1,002 available in full text (80%), out of which 824 (82%) already in Open Access. Overall, 66% of this year's research outputs are Open Access, reinforcing the EUI's commitment to making research widely accessible. I am particularly pleased that, for the fifth consecutive year, Open Access publications have outnumbered non-OA content.

The Library's Open Science team plays a key role in this effort, assisting EUI authors in understanding which versions of their publications can be made openly available. I strongly encourage all EUI members to provide the full text of their research, further increasing the visibility and accessibility of our collective academic output.

Cadmus, the EUI Research Repository, remains central to this effort. All EUI members are required to include their publications in Cadmus, ensuring they are visible and retrievable. Thanks to the Library's ORCID–Cadmus integration, publications listed in Cadmus are automatically pushed to EUI members' ORCID profiles, simplifying research dissemination and visibility.

The Library also supports Open Access publishing through Transformative and Special Agreements with publishers. Since 2020, 237 articles have been published Open Access without requiring authors to pay APC fees, thanks to agreements covering over 8,000 journal titles. Additionally, the fair Open Science Fund provides support for non-profit Open Access initiatives, reflecting the EUI's commitment to equitable and sustainable research dissemination.

Throughout 2024, Cadmus reached over 1 million page views, highlighting the increasing reach and impact of EUI research.

Finally, I extend my sincere thanks to all EUI researchers who have diligently submitted their publications to Cadmus, embracing Open Access whenever possible. Your contributions help enhance the global visibility of EUI research and ensure that knowledge remains open and accessible to all.

Cadmus, EUI Research Repository

Cadmus, the EUI's research repository, has been dedicated for over 20 years to collecting, preserving, and providing access to the EUI's research outputs in alignment with the EUI Open Access policy. Serving as the primary showcase for EUI's Research Output, Cadmus now hosts more than 30,000 records and attracts over 1 million page views annually. Managed as a core service of the EUI Library, Cadmus ensures global dissemination of EUI's publications, data, and videos, with 45% available in open access. Its metadata is in the public domain, supporting reuse and interoperability through international protocols.

CONTRIBUTIONS TO BOOKS

At the time of writing, the Open Science Office is conducting intensive professional testing on the new Cadmus. Upgrading Cadmus to DSpace 7, the latest version of the open-source platform, is essential for sustaining and enhancing the visibility and accessibility of EUI's research. This update will introduce a more modern and user-friendly interface, improved repository management, faster access, enriched search capabilities, and greater flexibility. The new Cadmus is set to launch in May 2025, with further fine-tuning and optimisations continuing until the end of the year.

EUI Open Access

The EUI Open Access Policy encourages scholars to facilitate the widespread dissemination of their research by making their publications available in Cadmus, the EUI's Research Repository. An increasing proportion of publications in the repository are available in Open Access.

EUI Library's Open Access Publishing Agreements

The EUI publishing agreements waive the Open Access fees for EUI authors in over 8,000 journal titles published by Cambridge University Press, Elsevier, Springer and Wiley.

EUI corresponding authors can publish their journal articles in Open Access without paying any Article Processing Charge (APC). Since 2020, 237 Open Access articles have been published by EUI members through the EUI Library publishing agreements.

EUI Open Access Endorsements and support to Fair Open Science

The EUI Library supports multiple Fair open science initiatives.

The EUI has endorsed and signed the following milestone declarations of open access:

The renewed Budapest Open Access Initiative \(BOAI20\) (2022)

the European Open Science Cloud \(EOSC\) Declaration \(2017\).

the Budapest Open Access Initiative (BOAI) on its 10th Anniversary (2012)

the Berlin Declaration on Open Access to Knowledge in the Sciences and Humanities (2011)
