

Assistant Professor Department of Economics

Assistant Professor in Economics

The Department of Economics at the European University Institute is proposing to make one entry level appointment at the rank of Assistant Professor to commence in the academic year 2020/2021. The Department welcomes applications in all fields of economics. Candidates should have, or expect to complete, a PhD by September 2020. The candidates should show strong research potential and a capacity for effective teaching and advising at graduate level.

You can find more information about the Department at <https://www.eui.eu/DepartmentsAndCentres/Economics>.

Review of applications will begin on November 25, 2019. Short-listed candidates will be invited for interviews at the European Job Market in Rotterdam on December 18-19, 2019. Job market candidates who do not plan to be present in that venue should indicate it in their applications so that alternative arrangements can be made.

The EUI is an equal opportunity employer. All qualified applicants will receive due consideration.

Application Instructions

Candidates should apply on-line through the Department's job posting on EconJobMarket at <https://www.econjobmarket.org>. The application should include a curriculum vitae, a brief description of research in progress, a job market paper, and information on teaching experience (if any). Also submit contact information for three individuals who will provide a letter of recommendation.

The aim of the European University Institute shall be to contribute, by its activities in the fields of higher education and research, to the development of the cultural and scientific heritage of Europe... This aim shall be pursued through teaching and research at the highest university level..., the Institute shall develop interdisciplinary research programmes on the major issues confronting contemporary European society, including matters relating to the construction of Europe.
-Art. 2 of the Convention setting up a European University Institute