Thank you for your interest in the European University Institute.

Yours sincerely,

Veerle Deckmyn
Director

School of Transnational Governance four Chairs in Transnational Governance

The School of Transnational Governance (STG) seeks to recruit four outstanding scholars to four new Chairs in Transnational Governance. The Chair holders will be the first full time members of the faculty of the School, which will start with its two year Master of Arts in Transnational Governance (MTnG) in September 2020.

Candidates should enjoy an international reputation in the social sciences and humanities with an openness to inter-disciplinarity. Their experience and expertise should cover one or more of the principal fields of the School; in particular:

- Governance theory, practice and transnational law and/or public policy;
- Qualitative and quantitative methods in the social sciences applied to the field of transnational policy and governance;
- Economics and international political economy;
- Leadership and decision-making theory, applied negotiation and bargaining theory;
- International Organisations or/and Regional Integration;
- Area Studies (such as Asia Pacific, Central-Asia and Africa).

The successful candidates will support the further development of the STG and will have a proven track-record of innovative course design, programme development and teaching at Master level. Candidates will have a strong publication record, a demonstrated interest in transnational dimensions of public policy, experience in developing and delivering executive education programmes, and a proven ability to mobilise external funding. They will have extensive international networks in public policy domains and/or the private or nongovernmental sector.

The Chairs will support the STG Director, contribute to the recruitment of Master level students, and engage in the design and implementation of the STG's activities. The successful candidates will teach and supervise Master students. It is expected that the STG Chairs will also undertake limited PhD supervisory responsibilities in the relevant departments.

The contract is for five years, renewable for a further three years conditional upon satisfactory performance appraisal and availability of funds. The Institute is an equal opportunity employer and takes into account the importance of balance in gender, geographical and minority representation.

The Chairs

The STG is looking for four full-time professors to provide their expertise within the activities of this newly established EUI programme.

The STG focuses on the following so-called thematic clusters:

- Peace and Security
- Trade and Finance
- Sustainability (Climate, Migration, Welfare)
- Digital Politics, Economy and Society
- Transnational Democracy
- Gender in Transnational Governance
- Comparative Regionalism Governance

The holders of the Chairs in Transnational Governance will be integral part of the STG community and will join an already existing group of internationally renowned Professors who are working part-time with the School.

It is expected that the holders of the Chairs will be actively involved in the promotion, implementation and success of the Master programme as well as in the Executive Education offer of the School. In particular, the Chairs holders, who will have a proven interdisciplinary and policy-oriented track record, will play a key role in the overall process leading to the success of the Master programme: student recruitment, designing courses and curriculum, teaching and assessing, supervision, networking, and follow-up. The same approach applies to the Executive Education offer, for which the holders of the Chairs are expected to contribute, by designing innovative offers in which the transnational governance approach plays a key role.

The holders of the Chairs are expected to develop a teaching and training program with an applied and policy-relevant focus in one or more of the above listed thematic clusters of the school. Moreover, they are expected to develop a research direction for the next five years within their discipline or area of expertise.

We welcome application from scholars with teaching and networking experience in one of the following fields:

- Governance theory, practice and transnational law and/or public policy;
- Qualitative and quantitative methods in the social sciences applied to the field of transnational policy and governance;
- Economics and international political economy;
- Leadership and decision-making theory, applied negotiation and bargaining theory;
- International Organisations or/and Regional Integration;
- Area Studies (such as Asia Pacific, Central-Asia and Africa).

The Chairs holders should have the following qualities:

- Innovative approach and strong experience in working and teaching at Master level (including designing courses and curricula, monitoring internships, outline and guidance for capstone projects and thesis supervision) and in recruiting students;
- Very good academic and institutional (potentially also with the private sector) relations relevant for the STG activities;
- Strong ability to communicate and develop partnerships;
- Excellent command of English and knowledge of other languages;
- Organisational experience and proven ability to attract funds;
- Strong ability to work in a multi-cultural environment with students and stakeholders coming from all over the world.

The Chairs are affiliated to the STG. The holders are expected to dedicate their time to the School and to the related activities, including the profiling of the scientific programme, the building of a STG student community, dissemination activities, and attracting funds.

Working in the European University Institute

The European University Institute is a postgraduate research institute set up in 1976 by the Member States of the European Union. It is not an institution of the European Union, but an intergovernmental organisation in its own right, funded directly by the signatory Member States.

The EUI consists of four academic departments - Economics, History and Civilization, Law, and Political and Social Sciences; an interdisciplinary postdoctoral training programme – the Max Weber Programme; an interdisciplinary research centre - the Robert Schuman Centre for Advanced Studies; and the School of Transnational Governance, focussing on teaching and training of governance beyond the State.

There are no special citizenship requirements for faculty members. In order to work effectively, the professors have to be fluent in English and have a working knowledge of at least one other EU language. Teaching is done in English.

The School of Transnational Governance

The EUI School of Transnational Governance was created in 2017 with the aim of delivering teaching and high-level executive education in the methods, knowledge, skills and practice of governance beyond the State. Based within the European University Institute in Florence, the School brings the worlds of academia and policy-making together in an effort to navigate a context, both inside and outside Europe, where policy-making increasingly transcends national borders.

The main activities of the STG are structured around four pillars: (i) Master of Arts in Transnational Governance (MTnG); (ii) Executive Education for Practitioners; (iii) Policy Leader Fellowships; (iv) High-Level Policy Dialogues.

The STG develops its teaching and training in line with its core themes, by keeping the transnational governance (beyond the State) angle as key driver.

The on-going series of High-Level Policy Dialogues, the Executive Education offer and the upcoming Master in Transnational Governance are based on the study and analysis of thematic clusters: Peace and Security; Trade and Finance; Sustainability (Climate, Migration, Welfare); Comparative Regional Governance; Gender Governance; Digital Politics, Economy and Societies; and Transnational Democracy.

A number of activities of the STG are organized with internal partners (the Robert Schuman Centre for Advanced Studies (RSCAS) and the four departments of the European University Institute) and with external ones (other academic players but also public institutions, research and policy centres, international organisations, etc.).

Further details about the STG can be found at <https://stg.eui.eu/>

Faculty: Director, Executive Director, Full-Time Chairs, Part-Time Professors, Joint Chairs/Secondments

The STG is currently headed by Miguel Poiares Maduro. The Executive Director is Fabrizio Tassinari.

Joint Chairs are affiliated to both the School of Transnational Governance and one of the EUI Departments and/or the Robert Schuman Centre for Advanced Studies and represent the connection between the two. In addition, a number of EUI Professors of the latter are seconded for a percentage of their time to the School.

The STG also includes part-time professors (currently 10) who work on the various thematic clusters and a Master Coordinator. These are renowned Scholars of prestigious academic institutions and high-level practitioners, who work part-time with the School.

Following this call for Chairs in Transnational Governance, the School will have a first cohort of four full-time Professors who will be based at the EUI in Florence.

Teaching Associates

The STG has a group of Teaching Associates who work in close cooperation with the STG Professors. Each of them works on two clusters. They ensure the link with the support staff. They will collaborate on the development of the Master courses and related activities.

Project Associates

Project associates of the STG are responsible for specific activities of the School. In some cases this relates to a vertical approach (e.g. working each on one of the single pillars of the School), in other cases to a horizontal one (e.g. networking).

Administrative Staff

The administrative staff of the School is skilled and dedicated and includes roles such as administrative assistant, conference organiser, communications specialist, administrator, academic coordinator, fundraiser, marketing specialist, external relations officer.

Conditions of employment – salary - benefits

The European University Institute is an equal opportunity employer.

Full-time professors at the EUI are appointed on a five-year contract which may be renewed for further three years.

Salary

The amount of take-home salary varies and depends on seniority, eligibility to expatriation, household and dependent children allowances. The Human Resources Service is available for providing more information on the basis of the actual family situation of the short-listed candidates.

Additional benefits

The Institute covers moving expenses to and from Florence (up to a maximum equivalent of a monthly basic salary), in addition to a settlement allowance calculated on each individual family situation.

Faculty members who are eligible to the expatriation or foreign residence allowance and their families are entitled to a flat-rate payment of travelling expenses from Florence to the place of origin; the flat-rate payment is based on an allowance calculated on distance.

Faculty members at the Institute may opt in to the health insurance administered by the Joint Sickness Insurance Scheme of the European Communities Ispra Settlements Office. An average of 80% of medical or dental expenses is reimbursed upon presentation of invoices. Some treatment (dental braces, for example) requires authorisation in advance.

There is educational allowance for school or university costs of Institute members' dependent children.

Faculty members can opt to be covered by the EUI social security scheme for the risks of disability, death, old age/severance. In this case 10,25% of an EUI professor's salary is withheld monthly; twice this amount is contributed by the Institute. Upon departure a generous severance grant, corresponding to approx. 30% of the aggregate of the basic salary is paid to the EUI member. Faculty members could also opt for a payment to be made into a national or private fund.

Under the terms of the treaty establishing the Institute, EUI professors are exempt from income tax on their salary paid by the Institute anywhere in the Contracting states. In lieu of national taxes, a deduction is carried out by the Institute.

Further details on all information contained in this note are available from the Human Resources Service.

The recruitment procedure at the EUI

The selection procedure at the EUI has some specific features due to its character as an international organisation, and due to the fact that the faculty is recruited on medium-term appointments with a high level of turn over.

Procedure and organs involved

Several Committees and Councils are involved in the selection procedure, which is regulated by Decision n° 2/03 of the High Council of the EUI:

- The School of Transnational Governance

- the Academic Council (all EUI professors and the President of the Institute)
- the Selection Committee

When a chair is vacant, the academic unit submits a profile for the chair to be filled to the Academic Council, which sets up the Selection Committee.

The composition of the Selection Committee depends on the appointment in question (i.e. a committee for one chair only, joint committee for more than one chair, or committee for a joint chair Department/RSCAS/STG). The selection committee is composed of professors from the EUI, external experts, the President of the EUI (consultative voice) and a representative of the STG fellows (consultative voice). The composition of the Committee is kept confidential until the invitations for interviews are sent to shortlisted candidates. They will receive further information about the composition of the selection committee.

After publication of the vacancy and reception of applications, the Committee may either draw a short list of candidates to be interviewed or turn into a search Committee.

Having set up a shortlist the Committee subsequently interviews the shortlisted candidates and submits a recommendation of one or more candidates to be appointed.

The Committee's recommendation is transmitted to the Academic Council, which acts as a sovereign body for appointments. A recommended candidate is appointed if the majority (50%+1) of members present vote in favour.

Tentative schedule for the present procedure

The schedule we would like to adhere to is the following:

- shortlisting decisions should be made by December 2019;
- presentations and interviews are scheduled to take place presumably in January/February 2020 (exact dates to be announced shortly);
- the Selection Committee proposal will be submitted to the first available Academic Council.

Application file

Your file should contain the following elements.

- 1) Application form (to be filled in online) in which you are invited to provide your personal data, and to indicate two “signature publications” which you consider most representative of your work. These should be preferably single-authored, and at least one of them should be an article. Please provide the full bibliographic citation.

Please submit four names of possible referees whom the EUI may contact. The referees should not include members of the professorial staff of the EUI. Please give us the names and e-mail addresses of referees who know you in your teaching, networking and applied research functions.

The Selection Committee may consult other external experts if it considers that helpful to its deliberations.

Attach the following documents as PDF files to the online application form:

- 2) Cover letter
- 3) CV: Please present a short CV of maximum 5 pages including education, professional experience, prizes and other major achievements.
- 4) List of publications: Please present a selected list of publications: a list of your books, contributions to books, and articles in major professional journals.
- 5) Proposal for the development of an STG thematic area: please outline your vision of the development of one of the thematic areas of the School, within its educational activities. The proposal should preferably be written in English, and have a length of up to 2000 words.

Formal applications should be submitted online by 28 October 2019 at midnight (CET). For any queries about the application procedure you may contact applypro@eui.eu.

Practical information about life in Florence

Learning Italian

The Institute's language service offers intensive Italian courses in September and less intensive courses throughout the year. Some other European languages are also taught. There are several private language schools in Florence.

Housing

Rents are very variable, likely figures for Florence and its immediate surroundings are 500-650 Euros for a one-bedroom flat and 650-750 Euros for a two-bedroom flat. Larger flats with three or four bedrooms run from 800-1000 Euros, depending on size and location, and can rise to 1500-2500 Euros (villas or large luxury flats).

The Real Estate and Facilities Service has a Housing Office which gathers offers of accommodation from the private sector (houses, studios and rooms - generally furnished) and can provide a list of apartments that suit specific requirements. The housing office helps as far as possible but it should be noted that it does not commit for personal assistance nor is it able to intervene in the relationship between the owner and tenant.

Day care and Schools

The EUI has a Crèche which provides preschool childcare.

In addition to private and public Italian schools there is a French and an international school in Florence:

The French school offers a programme that goes from Maternelle to Terminale, a good programme that many at the Institute take advantage of. Further information is available at www.vhugo.eu.

The International School of Florence (ISF) offers an elementary through to high-school programme in English. Places should be reserved as soon as possible and are expensive. The high school offers the International Baccalaureate, which is recognised for university entrance throughout the world. Its American high school diploma is also recognised by the Italian government as equivalent to that of a liceo linguistico. Further information: www.isfitaly.org.

More detailed information about day care and schools is available on our website at <http://www.eui.eu/ServicesAndAdmin/HealthAndFamily/Children/Index.aspx>.

Potential applicants requiring information beyond that contained in these further particulars, or who would like to discuss the vacancies informally, are welcome to contact the Director of the STG, Prof. Miguel Poiares Maduro (tel. +39 055 4686 731, e-mail: miguel.maduro@eui.eu).
