

The EUI has an open vacancy for a

Research Assistant in

Robert Schuman Centre for Advanced Studies

Florence, 11 April 2022

Reference: V/RA/RSC/13/2022

Who we are

The European University Institute (EUI) at a glance:

- an international organisation set up in 1972;
- a research university focusing exclusively on postgraduate, doctoral and post-doctoral studies, and advanced research;
- located in the hills overlooking the city of Florence, Italy.

The Institute also hosts the Historical Archives of the European Union.

The Robert Schuman Centre for Advanced Studies (RSCAS) is an inter-disciplinary research centre at the heart of the European University Institute (EUI). It was established in 1992 to complement the four EUI disciplinary departments (Economics, History and Civilization, Law, Political and Social Sciences) with the aim to be involved in both basic and policy research, collaborate with other centres of excellence in Europe, provide opportunities for young scholars and promote dialogue with the world of practice. The Centre's goal is to maintain an environment and support structure that fosters intellectual curiosity and excellent research. The research agenda of the Centre is currently guided by three major themes: Integration, Governance and Democracy; Regulating Markets and Governing Money; and 21st Century World Politics and Europe.

Employment details

Contract type	Part-time - (6/30 – 20%)
Length of contract	1 June 2022 – 31 August 2022
Salary indication and grade	Grade: ASTAC1e The basic net monthly salary after taxes is approximately 368 Euro, plus allowances if applicable. More information about conditions of employment is available here .

Place of work Florence, Italy

About the project

Project Director(s) Prof. Liav Orgad

Project details Global Citizenship Law: International Migration and Constitutional Identity. Governing global migration is one of the most pressing issues of our time. With more than 250 million international immigrants, the question of how citizenship should be distributed has become controversial, morally and politically. Traditionally, international law has not regulated nationality law; naturalization requirements remain the last stronghold of national sovereignty. This project advances the establishment of a new subfield in public international law—International Citizenship Law (ICIL)—which would govern nationality law. It asks a critical and timely question: What should be the international norms in setting up requirements for naturalization and, more broadly, for granting citizenship?

Job description The successful candidate will be part of the European Research Council's project research team and will be in charge of the completion of the historical part of the project especially with regard to the dissemination and publication of the findings resulting from the three conferences on the history of citizenship held during the project's timeframe.

Qualifications and experience

Qualifications and

Essential:

Experience

- Proven experience with theoretical and historical research;
- Good communication, teamwork and networking skills demonstrated by previous experiences;
- Previous participation in international research groups.

Desirable:

- Publication record on citizenship studies and/or intellectual history;
- PhD in Intellectual History.

Languages

Excellent knowledge of English, both written and spoken (CEFR level: C1 or above).

How to apply

Deadline

The closing date for applications is 29 April 2022 at midnight (Florence time)

Contact details

For more information contact Maria Elena Cau, MariaElena.Cau@EUI.eu

How to apply

Fill in the online application form and upload documents as requested, including the following, if applicable:

- Publication record on citizenship studies and/or intellectual history.