FOREWORD

Working for the European University Institute is a unique and special experience. The Institute connects a vibrant international community with the best Italy has to offer. The setting of the EUI in the hills of Fiesole overlooking the wonderful city of Florence is of an undeniable beauty.

The EUI is of course renowned for its high-level academic standing and intellectual prowess, but aside from the academic careers, the Institute offers also a wide range of interesting and attractive non-academic careers, mainly in the support services but also in the academic units.

This booklet highlights the comprehensive and competitive working package of the non-academic careers, provides an overview of the services and activities that are offered by the Institute and describes briefly living in Florence and Fiesole.

We are looking forward to meeting you!

Jan-Paul Brouwer
Director of Human Resources

Embrace change, Unlock talent, Inspire diversity
THE EUI IN NUMBERS

The European University Institute (EUI) is an international postgraduate teaching and research institution set up in 1972 near Florence (Italy) by the then Member States of the EU to provide advanced academic training for doctoral and postdoctoral researchers and to foster research in the fields which are of particular interest for the development of Europe. The EUI is an inter-governmental organisation, funded directly by the signatory states, partly by the European Commission and to some extent through external funding. It provides a multinational work environment in an intellectually stimulating atmosphere. The EUI is characterised by its thriving intellectual climate, rich in events, hosting leading academics and policymakers from around the world.

The EUI Campus comprises over 14 sites, many of which are historic buildings on the beautiful hills of Fiesole. Today the EUI is characterised by:

- 23 contracting states: Austria, Belgium, Bulgaria, Cyprus, Denmark, Estonia, Finland, France, Germany, Greece, Ireland, Italy, Latvia, Luxembourg, Malta, the Netherlands, Poland, Portugal, Romania, Slovakia, Slovenia, Spain and Sweden;
- an international community of 1,000+ people hailing from 85+ countries across the globe;
- 350+ academic staff and 300+ non academic support staff members and 40+ trainees;
- 7 Academic Units, including:
  - 4 departments – Economics; History and Civilisation; Law; Political and Social Sciences;
  - the Robert Schuman Centre for Advanced Studies, focusing on inter-disciplinary, comparative and policy research;
  - the Max Weber Programme for Postdoctoral Studies, preparing fellows for a career in academia;
  - the Florence School of Transnational Governance, which sets out to study, debate and teach matters pertaining to governance beyond the state institution or body.
- the Historical Archives of the European Union, a unique collection including 704,750+ archival files (47,200+ digitalised), 15,000+ volumes, the ‘Official Journal of the European Union’ and the ‘Debates of European Parliament’ (1952-1999), 71,400+ photographs, 2,129+ posters, 8,200+ audio and video recordings, 1,350 video recordings and films, and more.
A BRIEF HISTORY OF THE EUI

The EUI was born out of an atmosphere of cooperation, with notable advocacy for a European institute at the Hague Conference in 1948 and the European Cultural Conference the following year.

In 1969, leaders from European Commission and the European Parliament met in The Hague and resolved to fund a European University Institute (EUI) in Florence, focused on the human sciences and promoting cultural exchange between member states.

Six member states – Belgium, France, Germany, Italy, Luxembourg and the Netherlands – signed a convention in 1972 which cemented their commitment to creating the EUI as a pillar for research and development. The following year Denmark, Ireland and the United Kingdom joined the Community and became involved in founding the Institution.

The EUI opened its doors in 1976 and, for more than 40 years, the Institute has grown to incorporate academics from across the globe, spanning borders and staying true to its mission laid down in the 1970s:

“... to foster the advancement of learning in fields which are of particular interest for the development of Europe.”
WORKING AT THE EUI

The EUI is a global network of people, academic resources and research projects, offering real-life professional and personal experiences in an international and multi-lingual environment.

The Institute is committed to attracting, encouraging and retaining a highly qualified workforce to support our mission of excellence in doctorate and post-doctorate studies and research. It offers a healthy work-life balance in a family-friendly environment.

Employees are selected on the broadest possible geographical basis from among nationals of the Member States of the European Union, without distinction as to sex, gender or sexual orientation, racial or ethnic origin, social origin, genetic features, philosophical or religious beliefs, political or any other opinion, disability, age and without reference to their marital status or family situation. All applicants are given an equal opportunity to demonstrate their abilities during the selection procedures. The EUI applies a policy of equal opportunities and prohibits discrimination on any grounds, promoting the highest standards of efficiency and integrity.

Currently, the EUI is seeking to promote a diverse and inclusive environment. We welcome applications from nationals of all EU countries with any background or identity. In order to provide a barrier-free environment and equitable conditions for all, the European University Institute is committed to maximising accessibility to services, resources and activities. Should you have family/caring responsibilities, we have family-friendly policies that provide for flexible working, maternity and paternity leave, and leave for family emergencies.

In order to facilitate engagement on the broadest possible geographical basis, the Institute helps its employees to find a place for their children in the close-by Foreign Schools and in the Italian schools offering courses in foreign languages.
NON ACADEMIC STAFF

The EUI staff members enjoy conditions and benefits similar to those offered by the EU institutions or EU agencies, including a competitive salary. LIVING IN FLORENCE

FLORENCE WORLD HERITAGE

The Historic Centre of Florence was added to the UNESCO World Heritage list on December 17, 1982 and is defined as “a unique artistic achievement, a masterpiece, the outcome of the continual work of creation over six centuries”, able to exert a predominant influence on the development of architecture or monumental arts, first in Italy and then in Europe”, with its streets still preserved intact, fortified palaces (…), loggias, fountains, a marvelous bridge from the fourteenth century”, which attained “economic and political power in Europe between the 14th and 17th centuries” and was involved “in events of international importance. In the sphere of the Neo-Platonic Academy, it developed the concept of the Renaissance”.

HISTORY OF FLORENCE

This Tuscan city was built on the site of an Etruscan settlement and the later ancient Roman colony of Florentia (founded in 59 BC), where today there is Fiesole, which is therefore considered the “mother” of the city of Florence. Later, between the 15th and the 16th centuries, Florence became a symbol of the Renaissance, reaching extraordinary economic and cultural development levels.

The present historic centre is bounded by the remains of the city’s 14th-century walls and it can be perceived as a unique social and urban achievement, resulting from seven hundred years of cultural and artistic blooming characterised by persistent and long-lasting creativity.

The heritage of Florence includes churches, buildings, and artworks of immeasurable worth such as the 14th-century Cathedral of Santa Maria del Fiore, the Church of Santa Croce, the Palazzo Vecchio, the Palazzo Pitti, the Uffizi Gallery, and the artistic works of great masters such as Giotto, Brunelleschi, Botticelli and Michelangelo (UNESCO World Heritage Committee, 2014).

FIESOLE

Fiesole is the town that rises on the hill immediately behind Florence, at only 2 kilometres of distance, with an incomparable view of the lily town which is one of the most photographed in the world. The town is made up of nature trails through woods and hills, museums, monuments, historical villas, and historical villages such as Maiano and Vincigliata. The slope that climbs from Florence to Fiesole is a residential area of particular prestige, adorned with villas and palaces overlooking the city of Florence.17

CULTURAL ACTIVITIES

Florence is steeped in culture, past and present and there are infinite opportunities to experience this.

- Cinema: For the most part, Italian cinemas do not show films in original languages, but there are at least two cinemas showing subtitled films, namely Odeon and La Compagnia;

- Cultural Institutions: The Institute is currently working on strengthening its links with non-Italian cultural institutions in Florence. They all offer a variety of courses and cultural events throughout the year. Some examples are the British Institute of Florence, the Dutch University Institute for Art History in Florence, the Deutsches Institut Florenz, the Institut Français, and the Kunsthistorische Institut in Florenz;

VOLUNTEERING

The EUI is in the process of coordinating synergies and joint voluntary activities with other universities and institutions in Florence, in order to help EUI members (or partners of EUI members) who are interested in doing voluntary work to get in contact with local associations that might need help.
